

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. Please allow equal time the same week and hour for an anti-Bush documentary. True journalism is objective.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Both sides must be presented for democracy to be effective. Thank you.
